

A baluster cordial or toastmaster's glass, c. 1730

Maxine Berg, Luxury and Pleasure in Eighteenth-Century Britain, Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2005, p. 125.